The Democratic remnant of Vermont nomi-nated the funny rhymster, John G. Saxe, for Governor. They hoped Jack's wit would elect him, or at least make a deep inroad upon the Re-publicans. But the sturdy Green Mountain boys failed to see the place where the laugh came in. They looked upon Saxe with more abhorrence than an ordinary doughface, and feeling disgusted at his putting Vermont poetry to such base use, they turned in and administered to him a sound drubbing. The vote for Governor in 71 towns stands: for Hall, 12,814; for J. G. Saxe, 5,125. The same town last year gave Hall 11,405, and Keves 5,148. Hall's gain, is 1,409, and probably twice that in the State. They have made a "horrid example" of him.

The Times publishes an absurd editorial to the effect that the Republican party of Wisconsin was hopelessly rent in twain, because true State Convention failed to nominate two prominent candidates for Governor. There is more harmony in the Republican ranks than in the point no point squatter and anti-squatter democracy of Wisconsin. The Times will discover about the morning of November 4th that there is enough unity, vigor and patriotism in the Republican party of that State, to give the Doughfaces a severe overthrow. We hope our neighbors will borrow no trouble on account of the Republicans. Its sympathy and assistance will all be needed by its own discordant party.

After hearing the subject pro and con we have the same opinion of this ditcher; and that its, so soon as we can obtain tile at reasonable prices at our brick yards, we shall hear little of this machine. For a long time it was highly valued in England, but the tile soon drove it out, and now it has been taken up as a new thing, while in fact it is old, and consequently, nearly all the patents granted are of little value if put to the test of legal scrutiny. The mole, which is the most important, to certainly out of the contest, as well as the sword, and all that is left is some nice point about the adjustment of the parts. Each man on the ground has the best, of course. It is well known that in forcing a sirnich mole through a solid elog that the tecomes impacted so close that it would be imperious to water and act like a lead pipe, and this is why they are valuable for stock water. Commencing as in those cases in a pond, the water is admitted and must run through. Most of the moles have a blade to cut some inches below, allowing she water to filter through. Others allow it to enter by the cut made by the blade or sword, as it is called, while others have it press only on the top and sides, allowing the water to come in at the bottom but some of these do not fully accomplish this purpose. Another difficulty is to get them in and out of the ground, to have them run at any depth in or out at pleasure, though high points so as to keep up the water knowly high points so as to keep up the water knowly high points so as to keep up the side and bottom. Another medification of this machine is to use a small mole, and of course a smaller machine, to be drawn by five or six teams to drain lands one or two feet deep, for temporaryparposes, under the expectation that they will have to be repeated every two or three years, but in this case we would prefer sub-soiling.

Notes on the National Pair.

The grand gals week of the National Pair, now near at hand, is the absorbing topic of thought and conversation just now of a greater number of citizens of this goodly land than any one subject of its class has been for months, if ever, in fact. This time there is to be one entry that never made its appearance the force at the Regulations adopted for the government the Trial Drill'of the Military Companies of Chicago next week:

1. The drill to take place under the auspices of the United States Agricultural Society on the 15th day of September, 1858.

The Great Northwest itself is to be on exhibition, and from the country at large there will be many shousands who will come up to see and app out shousands who will come up to see and app out the land. We expect, everything favoring, to send them back astonished, with the very hack-neyed words of the Queen of Sheba on their lips. We expect to show our visitors herds of kine and their humbler fawr companions that a Facexpect to show our visitors herds of kine and their humbler farm companions that an Eng-lish duke might covet; horses that an Emperor might lovingly admire; proofs of mineral wealth and resources to be found nowhere richer than here; products, the tokens of the the richness of our soil; and evidences of growth and progress superior to adversity in business or the seasons.

conscious that as few as possible of the thou-sands of visitors that are to throng our city next week, should during their stay suffer as little as possible of annoyance and imposition from that class of community who always infest large cities and great gatherings, for the sole purpose of fleecing strangers and the unwary. It will be the duty of every citizen who has the interests of Chicago at heart, to render all the active practical aid in his power to the police, both regular and special, in their efforts to prevent and punish imposition upon the guests

We mean by this that it would be a benefit to every resident of Chicago that these strangers should go away well pleased with all they may have seen, with a good opinion of our city, our homes and our city government, and satisfied that every exertion has been made to render their stay agreeable, and to that end the city authorities the officers of the National Fair, and others will need the exertions and aid of our thers will need the exertions and aid of our residents as a committee of the whole in matters pertaining to the care and protection of

The will of the majority is not respected. The will of the majority is not respected. The will of an irresponsible governor, who is not a citizen of the territory, is made equal to one-third of all the members of each House. If the people are sovereign, who has dared to impose this odious restriction upon them? We find them bound hand and foot and Josded down with vetoes and exerticion upon them? We dad them bound hand and foot and Josefed down with vetoes and exercitons, and subjected to the arbitrary and irresponsible conduct of foreign officials, without the privilege of appeal, protect or redress of any description.

United States bayonets are at the command of these Federal office-holders and tyrants to enforce their despotic edicts and decrees upon the unwilling and indignant "popular severages." And to mark the meaning of the Nebraska bill more distinctly, the Fed ral Government pays all those office holders from Governor down,—legislature included. They are all the hardings of the President. They look to him for their bread and butter. They are wholly independent of the people over whom they rule, and wholly dependent upon the powers at Washington.

And still Douglas has the audacity to brawl forth that the "people of a Territory, like those of a State, have the complete and sovereign right to govern themselves," and that under his Nebraska bill they are "left perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in "THE JEFFERSONIAN PLAN." The northwestern territory was ceded by Virginia to the Union. Thomas Jefferson reported a plan for the Government of the Territory, In this plan he proposed to obtain the consent of the people for the exclusion of slavery. This plan recognized the Territories as Stotes. The Convention of the confederation struck out the part of the plan of Jefferson obtaining the consent of the people for the exclusion of alavery, and the Jefferson obtaining the consent of the Ferritories was adopted.

Douglas believes in the saying, that a lie well stuck to is as good as the truth. In his opy-right essay he treated the reader to the bove falsification of history, with this differ utions prohibited slavery in the North orn territory after the year 1800, while at Columbus he asserted that the plan only proposed to obtain the consent of the people for the exclusion of slavery." On this poin aspeech. Jefferson proposed no such thing; the language embraced in his plan was a plain and unqualified prohibition of slavery after the year 1800. But as the invention in the speech has been made since the essay was written, we may expect to hear it reiterated in every ding speech that Douglas makes. But our intention was to notice once more fact. The Jeffersonian plan, as originally reported, contained the prohibitory clause. On voting for the resolutions, one by one, this one received a majority of all the States present, but it lacked one of having a majority of all the States of the Confederation, which majority was necessary to its passage. It failed on account of the absence of one of the delegates from New Jersey. Jefferson both reported it and voted for it. It was emphatically, therefore, a part of the Jeffersonian plan. When shorn of that provision it ceased to be his shora of that provision it ceased to be his plan; it was only a part of his plan. But mark: at the very max meeting of Congress, all the delegates from New Jersey being pres-ent, the aforesaid provision was voted into the plan of government again; and when the or dinance of 1787 was passed, the Jeffersonia p'an was lacorporated into it.

This, in brief, is the history of the matte

Resolucif, That the Republican party of the State of New York in convention assembled, reassert their unchangeable faith in the truth, justice and practicability of the principles and purposes enunciated by the National Republican Convention, held at Philadelphia on the 17th of June, 1856.

Resolved, That freedom is universal and national, and slavery exceptional and local, and that the general Government of the United that the general Government of the United States in the exercise of its powers, whether executive, tegislative or judicial, is bound to adhere in substance and in form to the generous and nobe spirit of this immortal maxim.

Resolved, That the territories of the United States; that the Constitution has conferred upon Gongress the power to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the said territories, and that is in the right and duty of Congress, as the guardian of their weifars, to preserve them free forever from all political and social noisances, and particularly from the infamous and debasing institution of domestic slavery. and stage company is being supported by the travel and traffic which have sprung up be-tween the Mountains and the Missouri River since the month of June. These are facts patent to everybody. They tend irresistibly to the conclusion that those persons only are humbugged who persist in calling Pike's Peak a humbug.

Not the least evidence of mineral wealth in the Pike's Peak country is the uniform caution extended by persons already in the mines to their friends to the States, advising one and slavery.

Resolved, That the countenance and support which has been given to the slave power by the political party which calls itself the Democratic party, has encouraged that dangerous and aggressive oligarchy to put forth schemes for the enactment by Congress of a slave code for the territories and for the revival of the barbarous, inhuman and detestable traffic in African slaves. party, has encouraged that dangerous and agressive eligarchy to put forth achemes for the enactment by Congress of a slave code for the territories and for the revival of the barbarous, inhuman and detestable traffic in African slaves, against which schemes the Republican party hereby pledges itself to contend with earnest and unrelaxing energy.

Readesd, That the administration of the existing President, James Ruchanan, has been marked throughout by a reckless extravagance of expenditure, which has raised the annual expenses of the Federal Government to nearly $100,000,000, by extravagant schemes which proposed an additional outlay of $30,000,000, to corrupt public sentiment on important questions of foreign policy, and by an entire wast of the great principles of Sistess Rights and ladividual Fredom, which are the distinctive and glorious characteristics of the American Republic.

Reselved, That we hold it to be the day of the General Government, to set apart a portion of the public lands for the free use and occupation of the emigrant, in accordance with the provisions of the bill introduced into Congress at its last session, by Mr. Grow, of Pa., which bill was supported by the Republican members of Congress generally, and opposed as generally by the representatives of the slave power.

Resolved, That American ditizens are all over the world, and as such are entitled to the prompt, perpetual, efficient and fearless projection of the Federal Government; that consequently we abhor and reprobate the doctrine of the present Federal Administration, which abandons the adopted citizens who may be solourning in foreign countries, either for purposes of business or pleasure, to the tender mericis of French drill asreguents and Austrian jailors, and that rejecting as we do all class or discriminating legislation as unbegual and unjust, we adhere to the principle of the Philadelphia platform of 1856, which proclaims that the spirit of our institutions as well as our fandageral constitution of the claims and aspirations all to stay at home until another season shall have added its testimony as to the value of the diggings. Letters of this character which come upon our table every day from all parts of the country, are the sure indications of san-ity and honesty. Let them be heeded. Though gold does exist on the hither side of the lefty peaks and romantic forests which consti-tute the dividing ridge of the continent, nature has not ordained that the business of dig-ging it should make fortunes for the average of mankind faster or more surely than the digging which has for its object corn and po-competent phrenologist could tell three-fourths of all the persons who contemplate emigrating thither, that though the mountains were made of gold, they would never get any of it. Yet the foundations of a future empire are as sure-ly laid around the creeks and cascades of the of California or plateaus of Australia. There is a sharp and acrimonious contest going on among the papers of Missouri, on the expediency and propriety of the State lending, any more of her bonds to the Pacific Railroad.

t seems that the road has cost nearly seventy housand dollars per mile. In other words, it thrustand dollars per mile. In other words, it is completed 168 miles, at an aggregate outlay of hearly twelve millions of dollars! Of this vast sum, the State has contributed bonds to the amount of seven millions and a quarter, and the Company has made a further indebtedness of one sort or another to the amount of four and a half millions.

The whole distance from St. Louis to Kansas City, will be 282 miles. There remains 114 miles yet to build, which it is claimed will cost at least seven millions of dollars, making the total cost of a road only as long.

will cost at least seven millions of dollars, making the total cost of a road only as long as the Chicago & Alton, twenty millions of follars. The ten or twelve millions which the State must subscribe, will necessarily in the end prove to be a partial, if not a total loss, as there is no probability that the business the road will transact, can pay the interest on such an investment. This is the view advanced by the St. Joseph papers, and consequently they are opposed to involving Missouri any deeper on account of that Road.

cacepsion of the miserable flourish respecting disunion, a close reproduction of a late thoroughly considered article in the Washington Consistution, the official organ of the Administration. This was the first thing that impressed us on a careful reading of the address. Taking out the dash of disunionism, which doubtless subserves a special side of the control of out the dash of disunionism, which doubtless subserves a special side purpose, the position of the inaugural on the slavery question is in all esseutial respects the position of the administration. Not only the views themselves but the statement and elaboration of them suggest most vividly the esseutial disquisition of the Constitution.

ter Jadge R. advocated just what Republicans now advocate—the prohibition of slavery in the Territories by Congressional legislation. To my question, Does the Constitution carry slavery into the Territories? the gentleman answered: It exists only by law. What law The Democrate enderse the Dred Scott decision, which says the Constitution carries alsvery into the Territories. But myopponent does not answer my question squarely. He answers none of my questions. When I sak him if the Fugilive Slave law is constitutional, he answers me by Constitution. This surery striking fact in confirmation of the report in hand.

Still another circumstance, one scarcely less significant than this, is the great and increasing significant than this, is the great and increasing significant than this. If the great and increasing significant than the great and increasing significant than the great significant than the gre the Territories. But my opponents are stored and my questions, when I sak him if the Fugitive Slave law is constitutional, he answers me by asking, What do you think of it? When I ask him about the sub-treasury, he says he is in favor of the safe keeping of the public money. So am I. He will not discuss the differences between Novik and South. Democras. Still another circumstance, one scarcely less significant than this, is the great and increasing anxiety concerning Mr. Breckinridge's course which the friends of Douglas et Washington have betrayed during the last three or four weeks. Hardly a day has passed for the last fortnight or two that some skillful appeal to the ambition, the vanity, the caution, or the fears of Mr. Breckinridge has not reached the press from the head-quarters of Douglasian at the National Capital The canvass in Kentucky, contrary to all superficial indications, has alarmed rather than saured his arch-heretic of the Northern Democracy. With the quick eye of a practiced demagonue he sees that all is not secure. He souffs conspiracy and disaster in the breeze. What, in this fair and fragrant quarter, has all at once loaded the breuse with a taint of calamity? What so likely to have done it as the truth of the report to which we are directing the public stention? That certainly is all-adficient to explain what otherwise would seem to be inexplicable.

For these and various other reasons we think it exceedingly probable, that, in consideration of the Administrations support in the Charleston Convention, Mr. Breckinridge has finally consented to undertake the task of slaying Douglas, and pandering to the sordid vengeance of the President. The bargain has unquestionably been tendered, and there is little room for doubting that it has been closed, Gov. Magoffin's inaugural may we think be safely accepted as a formal delivery of the contract.

What have Douglas and his Northern partisans to say to this? We shall see. The plot thickers! in the midnight ocean of the South, for it is nowhere in the North.

But the Revublicans will agitate! Who annexed Texas I would ask; who repealed the Missouri Compromise? Who enacted the Nebrasks-Kanass bill? Who denied the right of petition? And who rifled the mail to suppress so-called incendiary documents? It is the Southern Democracy who agitate.

Republicans assert that slavery is a purely local institution, and cas only exist by positive law. The Dred Scott decision, which carries slavery into any portion of the United States where not forbidden by statute law, we hold as not law.

My opponent avers that non-intorvention was Revolutionary doctrine. If so, why did Jefferson, in 1784, frame a bill to prohibit slavery in

In the evening, the people were addressed, on behalf of the Republicans by Gov. Chase, and on behalf of the Democrats by Senator Pugh.

An Illinois Legislator Finds a Silver Mine.

(From the St. Loui. Republican, 8th.)

Cof. Vital Jarrot has recently written a letter to his friends in St. Clair County, Illinois, announcing the discovery by him of an extensive lead of silver, which promises a large yield of wealth. Col. Jarrot started to Pike's Peak in March last, soon after the adjournment of the Illinois Legislature, (of which he was a member,) in company with Messrs. Joseph Trotier and Sames Bornham. Shortly after the Col.'s arrival in the mining district, near Gold Run, forty-live miles from Deuver city, N. T., he had the honor to be elected Fresident and Chief Justice of the District, with dictatorial powers!

—a glory over which the recipient, in one of his former letters, indulged considerable merriment. courts can be of ever have been established in Territories, except by the Constitution of the United States; denies that Congress can dele-gate legislative powers which it does not pos-sess; denies that Congress can confer judicial powers, and says it can only institute courts in Col. Jarrot writes that the region in which be Duuglas' Colonial argument; contends that Judge Taney's decision in the Dred Scot case is directly opposed to the doctrine of Territorial sovereignty, and denies that the compromise measures of 1850, the Kansas-Nebraaka Act, or City, to be analysed, and was found to contain five parts silver, three parts gold, three parts iron and one part copper. As much as five thousand pounds of the ore per day bare been taken out, and the greatest excitement prevailed in the neighborhood at the time of writing this letter, August 3d. The whole country was likewise in commotion in reference to these seed diggings reported to be every rich. If, after a more therough test, Col. Jarrut's mine turns out to be what he expects, he will start for home to return immediately on making some necesary arrangements. In the other event, he will remain at home, at least during the winter. Col. J. is very well known in this region, and his statements may be relied on.

Ill., a passenger by the J. H. Dickey, which arrived yesterday from St. Louis, that he witnessed a most horrible tragedy on Sunday last at a place called Compromise. The circumstances of this faffar, as related to us, are as follows:

As the Dickey landed at Compromise to put off the mail, the postmaster of that place, Mr. Sparr, approached the mail agent, who had not made the last two or 'three trips, and said to him: "We have had some bloody times here of late, and we have to go prepared," (at the same time throwine back his coat and exhabiting his resolver.) "Why "says the agent. "Because our country is invested with a lot of thieves, suth as this man," (pointing to a man close by, named Shults, who was the only one at the leves previous to the landing of the Dickey besides the postmaster.

Shults then remarked that he was a most infamous liar, and destitute of every principle of a gestleman. Whereupon the postmaster placed his hand on his pistol as if in the act of drawing it, when Schults shot Mr. Sparr in the left side of his abdomen. Shults then retreated at a rapid pace about thirty fest, when Sparr fred four shois at him in rapid succession, but without effect. windrawn from the island, and the tovernment of Washington Territory has extended its authority over it. It is perhaps premature, with the slender information before us, to give a postitive opinion on the question, but it seems to us that in the assertion of civil jurisdiction, followed by the establishment of a military post on the island, none of that forbearance counsolled in Mr. Marcy's letter has been shown, and that almost everything has been done to provoke a collision. The understanding between the two Governments has not been fairly observed, and we do not wonder that much excitement should have prevailed on the British side of the boundary.

If, however, the presence of a body of American soldery is manifestly necessary to protect the American residents from molestation by the Indians, as may be the case; if a necessity which those who are near the spot will readily recognize. In that case there would be no objection to a joint military occupation of the island, and the effervescence which this proceeding has occasioned may be easily calmed. EMBROIDERIES. HOSIERY, GLOVES, SKIRTS, Bosrox, Sept. 7.—Receipts, 3,870 bbls flour; 85 bb oats; 800 bs rye.

Monreal, Sept. 7.—Flour steady; superfine continues in active demand at $4.75; No. 2 $3.00 to $4.00; fancy $4.90 to $5.05. A lot from new wheat has been placed at the latter price. Tobrandable $3.15 to $3.50. Wheat—none bere; new would bring from 95c to $1.00.

Tolano, Sept. 8.—Receipts to day are light; those by railroad amounting to 5,961 bbls flour, 13,149 hu wheat, 357 bu rye, 510 bu oats. We have no report from the Canal. Flour—small sales, receipts mostly going forward; 100 bbls at $4.50. Wheat—sales are fair in quantity, but the rates are unattainable. All the transactions, embracing some 1,200 bu read and $5.00 b white, were on private terms. Corn—sales 600, 900, 1,200, and 2,000 but at 65c, and 1,500 bu No. 2 at 596.

Tonosro, Sept. 7.—Whear—There was some 1500 bnabels in market this morning but it was rather an inferior quality fell as low as 4s 6d. The average figure was about the same as yesterday—$1. The tendency in the market is evidently down ward. There were three loads of Spring wheat sold at sprices ranging from 4s to 4s 4d per hushel. The quality was not very good. Oars—Some 400 bushels offered and was bought up readily at $4c, being a decline on former proces of a few cents a bushel. Bancar.

Ext.—there is no change to note in this article. There were about 500 bushels in market to-day, and they went off freely at from 3seg8s 5d per bushel.

The Crops in Europe.

[From the Mark Lane Express, Aug. 22.]

The onward progress of the harvest, slow though it has been, on account of the scarcity of hands in many districts, is beginning to foreshadow its probable influence upon the markets of the coming season. At present, however, eurough has not been developed of the condition of the erops to enable the merchant and the miller to form a sound judgment of the result. At the same time, the accounts from various districts give anything but a favorable view of the yield of the wheat crop. In some districts there is an undoubtedly full average, but in others a premature ripeness has injured the quality and reduced the quantity of the grain. This effect has been aggravated by the heavy storms, which in various parts of the country have inflicted great damage upon all the crops, and injured both quality and yield. It is estimated by many good judges that the weight of the wheat this season will average at least from three to four pounds per bushel less than last year, which will make a difference in flour of from 35 to 45 hs, per qr. This will amount, in round numbers, to at least two million sacks of flour, taking the average produce at sixteen million quarters, which, even if we get an average, will materially reduce the supply, and give the miller more work and less profit. On the other hand, it is universally acknowledged that the farmers throughout the country hold the largest stock of fold wheat they have had at this season for ten years: so that this will fully compensate for whatever deficiency may be found in the weight of flour per quarter. We have also a large stock of foreign wheat on hand, both is London and at the outports, that will still further help to make up any requirements. construction in the advantage are provided to start, although a summade mace, who is summade a fine provided to start, although a summade a fine and a summade a fine and a summade a summ Balton, on the most favorable ferms.

[F] The Hannel Powder Company beg leaves to inform the PARE OUT AND BACK, 20ets, The British Corn Trade.

[From the Mark Lass Express, August 2]

The past week commenced with rain, followed by a close humid atmessphere, but finishing fine and warm. Much corn has been carried; some in doubtful condition; but the continued scarcity of labor leaves a great deal of work in arrears, with more than ordinary risk and expense. The new wheat does not improve in quality, and some reserve in likely to be pisced on the finer qualities till better prices are paid. Farmers, still busy in the fields, have sent but little to market; and the amount of business generally has been small. With few exceptions, prices have gined in firmens, some noting as advance of 1a, to 2s, In foreign ports, Prance succepted, the rates have sither been stendy or tending upwards, and even our excepted, the traits have of sellers, European advices as to partial deficiency influencing the rise, and a local demand beyond forthcoming supplies gave holders at temporary advantage at New York. Statistics as to the crops under the management of Government are likely to be produced shortly in Canada, where a much more favorable report than last year's in expected. Then, the whest crop in Germany in not estimated to be short, but stocks are reduced, and rye- the great staple Splits, Cordovan, Buff Upper, &c., &c. Visitors will find this the quickest and most comfortal mode of reaching the Fair Grounds, using only is andui-rishe from the city.

to harden. We call Gussy to mind years after we glaaced into his dreary bedroom; after Rachel had been discharged for giving a slice of bread and augar to her little master; after the neighborhood in which Mr. Marbell lived rung with shouts of indignation against Gussy's father.

Mr. Marbell had retired from business at length in order to devote all his energies to the hardening of Gussy. That he might superintend the icy coldness of his noursery; the plainness of his food; his isolation from other boys. Day after day, Gussy barefooted, without hat or cap, his throat open, and his hair cropped close to his skull, passed our gate, walking, or rather ambing, behind his father. We fail to call to mind an occasion on which we saw father and son exchange a syllable.

We fail to call to mind an occasion on which we saw father and son exchange a syllable. Mr. Marbell, with a solemn expression, to which the brandishing of a respectable crab stick gave intensity of an unpleasantly suggest-ive kind, walking rapidly shead always; and Gussy, looking at the parental coat tails, and never removing his eyes from them, ambled, as we have written, after him. The throat of Gussy was milky white, the cheeks red as ca-nation. Old women turned upon Mr. Marbell as he passed; young women turned upon Mr. Mar-bell as he passed, and spoke passionately—the nature of their womanhood overbearing their sense of propriety.
